

This is first and foremost dance in it's purest form, changing in style perhaps, but always organic, changing, fluctuating from one geometrical form to another, always pleasing the audience's eye.

The dancers looks to be completely spontaneous in their response to the music and to each other.

BRAVO TO

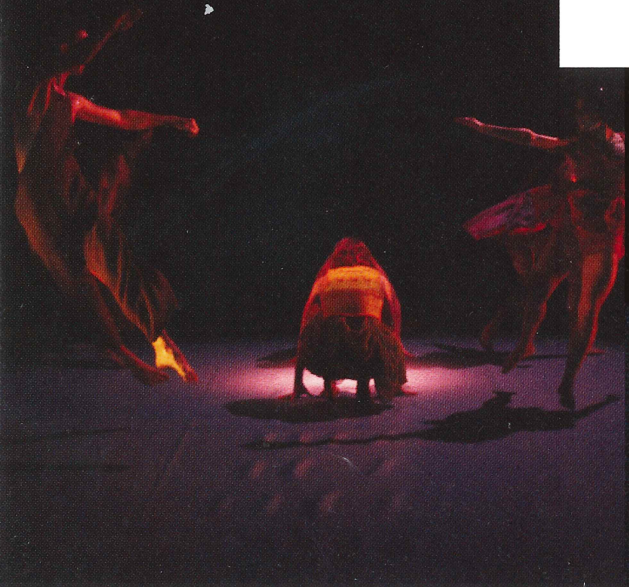

This is dance without role-characters and histories to be told, to communicate through their spontaneous «living in the movement» movements create kinaesthetic responses in me as audience.

the dancers
ent» and their

FIN BO RE

the natural beauty
of dance

dansdesign